St. Paul, Minn., July 5 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-St. Paul and Chicago to-day played off the postponed game of May 12, the home club winning with ease. Cough-lin was hit for a total of twenty-one bases by the St. Paul players, while Guckerman was a puzsler for the Marcons, but two hits being made off him up to the seventh inning. In that inning, after the side should have been retired, a single and two doubles gave the visitors three runs. Pickett's work at short was decidedly elever, as was Earle's stick work. The score:

Omaha to Have Some New Players While Some Old Ones Will Go. The public can rest assured that the management of the Omaha club are doing every thing that can possibly be done to strengthen the team. Neither time nor expense will be spared in the effort to compass this end. A big deal is now on hand, and in the event of its success, several new faces will be shortly seen upon the local diamond, and faces that belong to players of well known ability. The deal for Burdick has been closed—he goes to deal for Burdick has been closed—he goes to Indianapolis, who paid $1,500, it is alleged, for his release. The work of weeding out useless material will go right on until none are left but what can be utilized whenever the occasion demands. In its present condition the team cannot reasonably look for continued success. O'Connell, who suffered a bad strain in the groin, some weeks since, while he is on the mend will since, while he is on the mend, wi not be able to resume his position for som time to come. Shannon, too, is incapacitated to an extent that prevents him from putting up his game, while Flynn is yet very lame. He, too, however, is rounding to, and his friends look anxiously for his full recovery, in which event he is bound to become a favorite, because he is a ball-player and a gentle-man. Crooks is rapidly becoming a great favorite, and deservedly so, too. He is an industrious worker, a first-class player, and his superior coaching abilities will assist in the scoring of many a victory. His well-known slogan, "Well! well! well! just look at that!" never fails to bring down the house. Nagle, the new catcher, is also proving himself a valuable accession. FOURTH OF JULY GAMES Des Moines Wins an Easy Game from

Sioux City's Striplings. DES MOINES, July 4 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-Bryan's baby ball team played two games here to-day. In the morning game Hutchinson, pitcher for Des Moines last year, occupied the box, having signed a memorandum that he would play the season out with the team. He was quite wild, this being his first work of the season, but the visitors didn't get a hit off of him in the first six innings. After that he let up and a few hits were secured, netting the visitors two runs. Wells, who has just been re leased by Des Moines, pitched for the visitors, being backed by Schildknecht, also recently of the home team. Wells corkscrews were easily solved by his colleagues. There were no brilliant atures. The score:

Des Moines 8, Sioux City 2.

DES MOINES, July 4.-[Special Telegram to the Bee.]-In the afternoon Blanchard and Prantzner occupied the points for the visitors and Smith and Traffley for the locals. Des Moines won with hands down and could have shut the "corn huskers" out. A storm was gathering during the first four innings and the dust on the diamond was blinding After a refreshing shower in the fourth inning the game was played out in comfort. The features of the afternoon game were the brilliant fletding of the home team and daring base running of Stearns. Smith is responsible for what runs the visitors secured. The score:

Minnepolis won by bunching their hits in the third inning. Broughton broke the ice with the first hit of the game. McCollum waited patiently and got his base on balls, and Jevne sent them both across the plate by a two-base drive to the center field fence. Hawes, Walsh and Patton followed with singles and the two first, together with Jevne, scored. Milwaukee failed to find Winkleman until the fifth inning. Two hits scoring. NORTH CAROLINA POLITICS.

The Democratic Party Rapidly Losing Its Ground.

PEOPLE ARE TIRED OF MISRULE.

A Prominent Colored Republican Tells Why He Expects a Victory For the National Ticket in His State.

The Bourbon Sun Declining. WASHINGTON, July 5 .- [Special to THE Bee. |-Among the delegates on their way from the Chicago convention who lingered a few days in Washington was Mr. James H. Harris, of Raleigh, N. C. Mr. Harris is one of the foremost colored men of the south, and is a recognized leader of the republican party in North Carolina. He has been a delegate to all the national republican conventions since 1868, and was a delegate-atlarge in every instance except one. His facilities, therefore, for gauging the situation in the Tar-heel state are second to those of ne man in that section of country. I had a talk to-day with Mr. Harris about the republican outlook in his state, and he is confident that Harrison and Morton will receive the electoral vote of North Carolina. There are many things of interest in connection with the history of the republican party in North Carolina which Mr. Harris is familiar with, and which he related to me. During the course of this conversation as to why the course of this conversation as to why the party had not succeeded in some of the gallant campaigns it has made in North Carolina, and why it is going to succeed at the approaching election, Mr. Harris said:

"In 1886 we succeeded without thorough organization and with all the odds against us in getting control of the lower branch of the legislature, and lacked only six votes in getting control of the apper house. The legislature was more than two-thirds democratic prior to that. The reasons why we are cerpain of carrying the state this year are that the white people in the western part of the state, who have heretofore been solidified on the part of the democracy—in other words allied to the democracy by the color line have found out there is nothing in that; it has exhausted itself, the democratic party having destroyed, in fact, local self-government. When the republican party was in power they established and have allowed the people to maintain local self-government and to elect school committeemen, magistrates and county commissioners. The democratic party when it came into power took from the people that right and gave the power to the legislature to appoint the magistrates, who in turn appointed the county commissioners. These commissioners also appointed the pollholders and school committeemen in every thing, thus forming one of the most abomin able rings known in our section. The white people of the west have become disgusted with that system of operation, which they call 'ring rule,' in the democratic ranks, and they are determined to throw it off. election our strongest gains will be in the

"Then in addition the democratic party has promised and pledged itseft to the repeal of the internal revenue. Since they have got into power they have utterly failed to make an attempt at this repeal. There is an additional reason. In the manufacturing districts capitalists are building factories, and establishing and fos tering new industries in North Carolina, thereby giving employment and enhancing wages, and in that way the people are becom-ing in favor of a protective system; that is to say, protection to home industries and labor as against foreign or pauper

Another reason why we are stronger in the state: The republicans have not only pledged themselves to the support of the pledged themselves to the support of the Blair educational bill, but have redeemed that pledge whenever an opportunity has been offered, on the one hand, while the democratic party has promised to support it on the stump, but has throttled it in the national house of representatives. It will not be an answer even in North Carolina for our democrats to say they voted for the repeal of the internal revenue or voted for the passage of the Blair educational bill, because the people know educational bill, because the people know that Mr. Carlisle would be speaker of the house of representatives, and they know that he is a free trader and opposed to the repea of the internal revenue, and every one of these North Carolina democratic representa-tives voting for Mr. Carlisle for speaker of the house endorses his principles.

"The democratic convention held in Raleigh endorsed President Cleveland's administra tion and thereby endorsed the fight against the Blair educational bill, for which the peo-ple will hold them responsible at the polls in November next. The republicans in the south feel that our northern republicans do not fully comprehend our situation in a political sense, and they fail to give us that moral recognition and support in our cam-paigns, especially in North Carolina, and I would say in Virginia and West Virginia, that we are entitled to.
"In North Carolina we have some as ther

ough and devoted white republicans as there are in any state in this union, and they have undergone and are still subjected to trials and difficulties to maintain their principles with all the bourbon element against them that the northern white republicans known othing of. For a white man to be a repub lican in the south is to be ostracized politi-cally, socially, and I am sorry to say even re-ligiously. Our northern white friends seem not to realize these facts. Nevertheless, they

From the sources I have mentioned we will chiefly gain votes from the whites. Of the colored people, they are solidiled as re publicans, although the democrats are nov endeavoring to get colored support for the first time. Their papers are coming out and appealing to the colored people and quoting Mr. Cleveland as appointing a number of their race to lucrative positions, especially in the District of Columbia. That will not avail anything. We propose to canvass the state theroughly, so that they cannot deceive the colored people on that point. Then another thing: The republican party has nominated one of the most popular gentlemen for governor in the state, O. H. Dockery, ex member of congress, a life-long farmer, wh is at the head of the Farmers alliance, which includes a large portion of the substantia farmers of the state. He will get the sup port of the farmers and a large percentage af the democratic vote owing to this fact. On the other hand the democratic party has nominated Hon. Danfel G. Farwell ever the head of the Farmers' Alliance can-didate, William B. Alexander, and the fight was very hot between the lawyers on the one side in the democratic convention and the farmers through the Farmers' Alliance with Alexander as their candidate on the other. The democratic convention refused to nominate Alexander, the farmers candidate, and nominated Daniel G. Farwell over his head, which not only disgruntled but angered them. The effect of this will be that many of them will support Farwell, be-cause he is a lawyer and a ring man, and a arge number will support Deckery because is a farmer, and a large number will not "Another thing: In all the campaigns that have heretofore been fought in the south, not so much in North Carolina as in other states, the union men and the sons of union men as a rule have not been elected or ap pointed to any office of trust or prominence. The campaigns have been conducted upon the confederate idea. That is to say, if men wore the shoulder-straps of the confederate service or were the sons of confederate of-ficers and their special friends they had the preference sand still have the preference. The young white men who have grown up since the war with more progressive an American ideas and whose education and sympathies are more in accord with the progressive ideas of the present day have determined to oppose that Duethod, and will not support as a rule any man who is nominated on that plan. They will yote with the republican party this year, and will not support what they term 'the bourbon and fossil class.' Nearly all of the congressmen from our state and from other southern states are ex-con and from other southern states are ex-con-federate soldiers, and who have been the recognized representatives in the national council to the exclusion of the union and union men's sons and the Farmers' Alliance, and as I wish to let by-gones be by-gones I will not mention the methods by which they get their seats, but certainly they secure them by adonting methods represent to the get their seats, but certainly the them by adopting methods repugnant to the American idea of liberty, to say nothing o

"As to the character of the con

dates for governor and lieutenant governor, it was conjoosed of at least 60 percent of young white men. Of two-thirds of the entire number of delegates representing the ninety-six counties nearly four-fifths were white men. I mention this fact to show the increase of white support in the state. We have never before had such a convention. The democrats adm. it have has never been such a convention held by the republicans. This convention exceeded by far as to intelligence and wealth any that has been held by the republicans in the state.

"Now, as to the presidential candidates. I think they are as strong, if not stronger, than any other we could have made. General Harrison is well known to the republicans of North Lirolina, was spoken of as the most available man before the convention, and his nomination will certainly strengthen, greatly strengthen, the republican party in North Carolina. The delegates at large, I being one, were instructed for Mr. at large, I being one, were instructed for Mr. Blaine. Out of courtesy to Mr. Sherman, for his long and able service for the party and especially in defense of the negro race, I voted twice for him, but after having surveyed the field thoroughly, and seeing there was no possibility of his nomination, when the convention adjourned on Saturday I then made up my mind to give my vote and influence to General Harrison, and am con-vinced in so doing I not only represented my constituents, but I served the interests of the republican party. We are determined to thoroughly organize the republican party in North Carolina, and make a vigorous campaign, and we are certain that we will carry the state and cast our electoral vote for Harrison and Morton."

SOUTH OMAHA.

The Pientes.

Both the pienies announced for yesterdas were a success, financially and otherwisey and neither one was marred by the fighting or unseemly conduct that so often spoils the pleasure of those who attend. Those who followed the K. of L. to the syndicate park, first listened to eloquent addresses from Messrs. Edgerton, Van Dusen and Brigham, and then gave themselves up to the pleasures offered in the programme. Dancing and athletic sports filled the bill and at the close M. A. Martin and Mrs, Madeson were awarded first place for waltz ing, with J. Cotevelle and Miss Murphy taking a good second. The judges were Ben Finerty, Paul Paulsen, Mr. and Mrs. Sweeny and Miss Mary Trice. Among the sports the potato race furnished the most amusement, and was won by A. K. Muller, of the gun club.

The foot race was won by J. Anderson, with Officer John Sexton second, and the rest of the day was devoted to amusement

The parishioners of St. Agnes, spent their day in the more secluded spots that sur-rounded the Syndicate lake, and they too thoroughly enjoyed themselves. First they were treated to elo-quent speeches from John Rush and Lawyer Minneban, and then the re-mainder of the day was detoted to innocent amusements. Interest contered in the prizes for waitzing, which were carried off by Charlie Conrad and Miss Dora Johnson and Tim Flaherty and Miss Annie Ryan. The boys said that Tim took the cake but Rodie Redmond as judge awarded the prizes in the above order. Father Moriarty was indefatigable in making the picnic what it was—a success, and was rewarded by seeing a fair sum credited to his new church. The music was furnished by the Hibernian band of Omaha, and was just of the kind that they so well knew how to play.

How it Was Celebrated.

Bright plumes, gay uniforms and neatly dressed school children gave the streets of South Omana a genuine holiday aspect yeste day. They met early in the morning at the old school house grounds on Twentyseventh street, and there formed the procession that was the feature of the day. Shortly before 10 o'clock they marched up N street, headed by the entire police force, who were mounted for the occasion, and in charge of Marshal McCracken. The Hibernian band came next and then the city council in carrirges. Next followed a tableau on wheels representing the goddess of liberty, and the states of the union, in which the parts were taken by a number of young ladies from the different schools. The Bohemian cornumber of young lad different schools. The net band followed turn was followed by the Knights of Pythias Turn society, citizens on foot and in carriages, and trade designs from Brower &

Sullivan and Clapp and Williamson. The procession marched east to Twenty-fourth street and then northward to the different picnicing grounds. A feature of the parade was the gun club, which time and again fired volleys as they passed the residence of prominent citizen along the line of march. Police Court. The cells were well filled this morning, but owing to the numerous temptations the Fourth of July always brings, the judge tem-Fourth of July always brings, the judge tempered his decisions with mercy. John Doe and Richard Roe were too drunk to give their names last night, and as they looked respectable they were not asked for them this morning. They pleaded guilty to celebrating, and were allowed to go. Mike Keeler was given the same privilege, but Dick Burden paid $2 and costs, T. T. Crawford $3 and costs, and Gus Caspar the same amount. Mike Burke not only tried to beat his board bill, but everyone in the boarding house, so he was aseryone in the boarding house, so he was as-sessed $10 and costs, which he can't pay. His landlady, who is troubled with heart disease, fainted while giving her evidence. Ernest Viel, B. Kreibs and Fritz Kreibs, charged with resisting an officer, will be heard this afternoon, as will Pete Hand, charged with disturbing the peace.

Notes About the City. Receipts of cattle and hogs were light to-day, and prices all around were higher Anton Vancotter sued Frank Vanasek for $23 for board, and Justice Levy gave a deci sion in favor of the plaintiff. The Gate City hotel obtained $50 worth of groceries from Ben Levy, and this morning Ben obtained a writ of attachment for the

At four o'clock this afternoon the remains of the murdered John Ryan were forwarded to his Illinois home in Peoria. Mr. John Powers will accompany them.

A skiff was capsized at the lake in Syndicate park yesterday and its occupants narrowly escaped drowning.

The city council meets to-night. South Omaha came nearly having a cele-bration of an unusual kind yesterday, and were it not for the vigilance of the police Frank Offineer would have probably found his victim, Jack Ryan, in another world As it was he was quietly spirited away to the county jail at a time when Ryan's friends were scattered over the town and before they knew he was dead. When they did know it was too late to make any demonstration, but it was a narrow escape for
